Magnetic Holderdescription:Magnetic Holders

Magnetic Holders are the common and popular magnetic assemblies. These magnets are available in many different forms and shapes according to customer's requirements. Generally such as square, disc and Ring holder magnets.

Aside from a pot magnet with plastic cup in different color, Magnetic Holders are made by setting magnet in steel or Brass and AL parts. Because metal part are prone to corrosion in humid environment. It usually need surface treatment: Zinc, Nickel, Coated, Painted, rubber etc.

Holding magnet has a particular magnetic circuit that can concentrate or insulate magnetic power at a target space around the magnetic assembly. They are widely used in many applications to all industries, engineering and daily life.
